Anyone can start.

Unknown Speaker 0:03

I think I just start with a comment I made. I like, this is more of a statement that really binds up everything. And it was that it's a great direction to move towards, as long as we have a parallel, parallel world, which is a bit more real. And I feel more embodied, which is this right here.

Unknown Speaker 0:23

A couple of things. I'm going to come back to I just want to see what people's first impressions were,

Unknown Speaker 0:28

that I have mixed feelings on this, this experience that I have had. So the first thing is regarding say hiring, I mean, first, basic, very basic purpose of making such a secret recordings or theses kind of things. So is it not infringing too? So they

Unknown Speaker 0:47

Okay, yeah, couple points from there to follow up. Yeah, it's what I thought was like it was say, you're on the internet reading something, and the ads pop up, which I always thought very annoying. That's what I thought when I saw those things, yeah, I was kind of expecting more of a sci fi heads up thing where it will be superimposed not obliterating what I was looking at so concerned to some extent, but I don't like the idea that everyone could access all of my health statistics or something like that. I wouldn't want it to be so invasive that it was getting my oxygen and my -, my pulse all the other bodily functions that would that would be very invasive to me.

Unknown Speaker 1:10

Unknown Speaker 1:37

Definitely, in my opinion. I know it's a very strong position to hold but I really feel it definitely will. Because if you sit in a bus now, and you look around, people are just in their phones and you find very few people who really are looking at you.

Unknown Speaker 1:54

If you are introvert, Say if you are a book reader I suppose, and you're an introvert. So definitely you have sometimes a group but it is (weighted they push live with a very limited) (Not sure what that says)
